ECO-BEAUTY

Organic beauty products are all the rage. The trick is to find those that are “really” organic with a predominance of clean (grown organically) ingredients at the top of the container’s ingredient list rather than at the bottom. ‘Active’ ingredients are those that create a positive affect on the skin. PinkMemo.com has found two eco-friendly skincare lines that contain blends of natural and cosmeceutical ingredients including botanicals sans synthetics that do not harm the skin.

Timeless Secret is a minimalist 4-product collection: cleanser, treatment/moisturizer, eye treatment and sunscreen. This line includes patented ceramides, madecassoside, brighteners, botanicals combined with peptides in various combinations but the key ingredient is Pu-erh Tea, an ancient tea that grows in potency as it gets older, much like fine wine. The tea contains 300 natural proteins and minerals and detoxifies the skin, protects against free radicals, reduces inflammation and works to erase lines and discoloration. One of the co-founders, May (age 60) is free of lines and any discoloration on her face or neck because she uses this line. She’s a testament to the line’s efficacy. Check out the trial size kit and try the tea bags as well. It’s worth the time for a Timeless Secret! Visit: www.timelessecret.com d’Vine is a skincare line based on grapes! This line has fewer preservatives (and some products have none), and it provides a natural anti-aging defense. Using an exclusive formulation of wine and grape seed extracts, Resveratrol and Bioflavonoids, d’Vine Inc. balance the skin, support the capillaries, and promote tissue elasticity to improve the overall health of your skin. A favorite product that packs a superb all-natural punch is Zinfandel Scrub Mask. Its rich jammy blend doubles as exfoliating scrub and mask. It contains the d’Vine signature complex of resveratrol, L-tartaric acid, wine polyphenols, wine and grape seed extracts from both red and white varietals for rejuvenated skin. You will see and feel a difference with one treatment. Visit: www.dvineinc.com

Using eco-friendly products is a smart move for the earth but sometimes when it comes to products that have that 'green' appeal of being earth-friendly, the price tag might be a bit more than we can handle. However, know that when you are buying 'green' products that you are helping improve the global quality of life while you improve your own. PinkMemo's always on the prowl for innovative products that can be beneficial to the global ecology as well as your own personal style. Add in the bonus of a discount and it's irresistible!

Plank Designs. If you are into Yoga or just love great accessories, check out this awesome bargain for PinkMemo.com readers! Plank, is a funky-chic yoga design line that's adored by celebs on both coasts as well as yogaphiles from beginner to advanced. Plank is offering a 25% discount for ONLINE purchases at www.PlankDesigns.com for the 'text' mats and the totes. For the double- fudge mocha latté cappuccino lovers, the 'Chocolate' mat is sure to satisfy a sweet tooth.

Plank mats, regularly $65, will be on sale for $48.75. The totes, regularly $245, will be on sale for $183.75. Use this special Pinkmemo.com coupon code: PM0606. The coupon code is good from September 1 to September 30, 2007. So order early and think about some early holiday gift shopping because this is a smokin' hot deal!
